

CHAPTER V

CONLUSSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusion and suggestion. The conclusion covers some educational values that the researcher found in “The Teacher’s Diary” movie and the implication of the movie in relation with teacher professionalism. Besides, the researcher also gives some suggestion for the teachers, students and English Department.

A. Conclusion

This Study is focused in the main characters and their educational values as a teacher in a rural school. By analyzing the two elements in this movie, it is expected that the readers can do some educational values and how to be a professional teacher in their real life. Based on the two research problem that are stated in front, the researcher would like to give two conclusions to this study.

1. To find out of the first problem about the educational values that found in “The Teacher’s Diary” movie, the researcher uses the theory of educational values by Linda Eyre Richard. Based on Linda Eyre Richard’s theory, the researcher concludes that Ms. Ann and Mr. Song are great teachers. Because they have some educational values that indicate they are great teachers. Their educational values are Honesty, Bravely, Calm and Patient, Loyalty, Love and Affection, and Sensitivity. That is why the researcher says that Ms. Ann and Mr. Song’s educational values contain in character education value.

2. The next discussion is about the implication of “The Teacher’s Diary” movie in relation with the teacher professionalism. There are some implications of the movie related with teacher professionalism. The implications of the movie toward the teacher professionalism according to the theory are related with the teacher’s attitude, behavior, and communication. The implications above are the proofs that “The Teacher’s Diary” movie has a good motivation for a new teacher how to be a great or professional in the world of education. This movie also inspired the readers to have a good value especially in education and how to be professional teacher.

B. Suggestion

The researcher would like to give some suggestion related to this research for teachers, students, and English department. The suggestion can be put forward as follows:

1. To the Teacher
 - a. From this movie, teachers can get many educational values that can be used in teaching learning process.
 - b. Teacher can get an education how to be a professional teacher.
 - c. Teacher can get an innovation and motivation how to be a good teacher although there are many challenge and hindrance.

2. For the Students

- a. Students can study about attitude behavior from the two teachers in this movie especially Ms. Ann. So, people can get everything when they have extraordinary effort.
- b. They can learn about the two characters' values in education to motivating and inspiring their life. The students can be taught how to overcome the difficulties in world of education.
- c. For the students who study about educational values, they can take this paper become their reference.

3. For English Department

- a. English department can use this paper to add the reference about the educational values.
- b. Media such as movie are very important in education. This media can help the students to understand and mastery teaching materials, so every school must have educational media.
