

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter present some conclusion and suggestion that have been analyzed by the researcher chapter by chapter.

A. Conclusion

Doing this research, the researcher gets data and analyzes it. Based on the data that was gained and analyzed, the researcher concludes about the characteristic of Fauziya Kassindja in novel "Do They Hear You When You Cry", the researcher can conclude that there are many characteristic applied in this novel.

The characteristic of Fauziya Kassindja in surviving her life to get success as follow patient, strong, independent, hard worker, brave and religious. Theses character brings her to get success in her life. Fauziya is patient because she can handle the problem in order to the problem can be solved. Second Fauziya is strong and having powerful when she doe the problem and never give up with complicated problem. Third Fauziya is independent she can control in any way and can stand alone in the prison not visit by anyone. Fourth character Fauziya is hard worker she hard work to continue her study in the university to make her parent proud of her. Next Fauziya is brave she can fear the dangerous thing which steady heart and not afraid. The last Fauziya is religious she comes from Muslim family her faith is strong and always ask anything to Allah when she get problem.

In this novel have explained there are some effort to get success in life. There are some effort to get success in the life that does by Fauziya.

Fauziya effort to get success is getting the asylum and looking for the lawyer. To get success is not easy Fauziya needs the asylum to survive her life she is going to German and America to find the asylum. Fauziya effort when she goes to German understand German language, escape form aunt's house and work hard. Fauziya also goes to America her effort is making passport. Fauziya also look for the lawyer to handle her case and get freedom form the prison her effort is calling her cousin to help her find the lawyer.

B. Suggestion

After completing this research, the researcher made some suggestions in order to make this research useful in the studies. The suggestions are belonged to the teachers, the readers, and the next researcher.

For teachers, this study helps them to explore more their knowledge about the characteristic and how to get success especially in the novel. The teacher can motivate their children about successful person, because teacher not only teach but also to be motivator.

For readers, this study can give them knowledge about pragmatic studies especially in the novel. They can know how someone uses characteristic in their daily activities and how to get success especially in "Do They Hear When You Cry" novel that is included many characters

For the next researcher, this study can also lead the next researcher who conducts the same field of research as the reference or comparison that might be relevant for the next research.