

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In the last chapter of this research, the researcher presented the conclusion from the explanation of the personality of Leigh Anne Touhy as the one who has many roles in the story to educate a traumatic child and her ways in educating a traumatic child, and the explanation of the personality of Michael Oher as a traumatic child. This chapter also consisted of the suggestion of researcher.

A. Conclusion

After completing this research, the researcher had to draw the conclusion of the research. The conclusion is the answer of the research problems from the data that is explained in the previous chapter. The points that would be concluded by researcher are Leigh Anne Touhy personality, Michael Oher's personality, the causes of Michael Oher's trauma and the last the ways that are done by Leigh Anne Touhy in educating a traumatic child.

Leigh Anne Touhy's personalities that are shown in the research show that her dominant personalities are respectful, distinct, helpful, motivator, trusted person, democratic and the last careless. All of those personalities indicate that Leigh Anne is a good mother that can give a good education for her children. Because of her personalities, she can educate her children especially Michael Oher who has a childhood trauma to become successful persons in their future. She has good combination personalities that are needed in educating a traumatic child, so that she can give good education in Michael Oher's life.

Michael Oher's personalities before being educated by Leigh Anne Touhy are stolid, stupid, lazy, closed, and the last hopeless person; those personalities indicate that he is a traumatic child. Michael Oher personalities after he gets a good education from Leigh Anne Touhy are open minded, smart, protective, helpful and spirited. All of the contrasted personalities of Michael Oher indicate that he who gets a trauma before can solve his trauma disorders. He grows up into a new person who does not get a trauma, so that he can improve his ability and get a bright life.

In fact, there is nothing happens without any causes in the world as Michael Oher's trauma disorder that also has causes. It happens because of his hard life in his childhood. As a young child that usually has a good and beautiful life in the childhood, Michael Oher has to get a hard life that forces him to get a trauma. Those hard lives give a bad influence to Michael Oher's mental development.

In process of educating Michael Oher who is a traumatic child, Leigh Anne does everything she can. The ways that are done by her through Michael Oher's life are giving a love, helping in learning activity, teaching a love, giving a good motivation, applying a democratic style and the last searching Michael's ability. Those ways make Michael Oher becomes the new one with new personalities and new abilities. It can conclude that Leigh Anne Touhy's ways to educate Michael Oher as a traumatic child are success in letting him get a good future. In educating special need student especially for emotional disorders needs a special ways based on the traumatic child requirements, it is done by Leigh Anne Touhy that are shown through her ways that make her get a success in educating Michael Oher.

B. Suggestion

After completing this research, the researcher makes some suggestions in order to make this research useful in the real life. The suggestions are belonged to the parents and children.

For the parents, it is necessary to the parents to make a good relationship between their children in order to decrease the childhood trauma in their children's life. The childhood period is the important period to build a hard relationship with children because at that time children only close with their parents and spend most of their times with parents. That period is the time for giving them the best thing in order to give them beautiful memories about their childhood.

For the children, it is suggested to the children that sharing everything about something that disturbs their minds to other persons can help them to solve it. Solving some problems for children who are not mature enough is something difficult to do alone, so that they need someone else to do it. Problems that is hidden in children's hearts can take most of their times to think about it, moreover the problems that cannot be solve by them; it can lead them to the trauma disorders.
