

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter describes the conclusion and suggestion of the study. The writer draws some conclusions and suggestion for concerning the study. There are concerns about the Mark's personalities as the successful keys to be the founder of Facebook and telling about the effect faced by Mark as the founder of Facebook in The Accidental Billionaires.

A. Conclusion

From the previous data display, the writer can draw some of conclusion. The conclusion of Mark's personalities as the successful keys and the effect faced by Mark in Novel the Accidental Billionaires. There are conclusions of this research, those are:

1. The Mark's personalities as the successful keys to be the founder of Facebook

From this study, the writer get concludes that Mark's successful keys. These are patient, courageous, creative, and diligent. Some of successful keys have a motive to build alive for many students in the world. While his characters to be a successful person. The writer get draw that he was a genius person. Based on many types of characters, it was evidence that he was to be a successful person. Mark was the main character which has many characters to be a successful person. Mark was a mayor and flat character. He was a good man. He was a genius student in Harvard University. The flat character of him was he always to try and work hard to get something what he wanted.

2. The effect faces by Mark as the founder in Novel the Accidental Billionaires.

By analyzing the novel, the writer knew that the problem faces by Mark as the founder was some betrayal which it was done by his girlfriend and his friends on Harvard University. He should to try to be a good person to solve his problem. Mark also have uncertain to him. And to solve this problem, Mark tried to be a commitment person. Mark's commitments were showed when he did not sleep all the night and when Mark had been working so hard many hours. Then Mark also was tough minded person. The role to solve this problem was he should be a discipline person. There are Mark's discipline roles when Mark hit more keys to change the page to the opening screen of Facebook and when he wrote a simple e-mail.

B. Suggestion

Based on the study conducted, the writer get recommend some point of suggestion. The suggestion to make the reader and other person get the advantage after read this research. Then the writer tells about many suggestions for people about many advantages of read this research.

These are:

1. The readers

For people who like was read this novel. It was suggested for any reader what they were read in this novel. It make people want to more motivate to read and study about the knowledge to get the successful in alive. The reader get develop about their thought and idea with other people to be a successful person and the writer was very amazing in this world. It also help the reader how important the life to be a successful person. To get all it, the reader should get some keys and ways to be a successful person. The advantage to them gets knew some information, knowledge and learns from it, which it was taken the inspiration and motivation for their life.

2. The teachers

The teachers want to try motivating in teaching and studying about their knowledge to publish for many students to develop their idea and knowledge. The purpose from this matter was to make and develop many students who they teach to be successful person in the world. It also advantages the school get the highest quality in the education world. Concerning with the teacher issue also has discussed in this study. The writer suggests the teacher to give more care about this issue. They should give more attention to their student get take any study from the novel for them. They also have to understand what their student want to get develop in this study on the future especially when the teacher want to be a successful teacher in the future.

3. The students

The student would also increase many reader interests to read more about the keys of successful and the character of the main character in this novel, and finally the person will realize that the person must try strong to do something and to get something. If the student was just silent and never try to do, these students also get the result of what the student done. The student should to benefit the time to better to be a successful student.

The students need to develop this knowledge and add their inside about everything dealing with their main study. It was also important to learn the literary works especially when the students want to make a novel and to be the writer. It was suggested that the students get learn many kinds of resource in order to give them the new information and knowledge.