

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter describes about the conclusion and the suggestions from the research in the school. In this this chapter, the researcher concludes the data analysis and the discussion from the previous chapter. In addition, the researcher also suggests for the follow-up study in this field.

A. Conclusion

The main character of the movie "The Greatest Showman" is a man by the name of P.T. Barnum, also known as Phineas Taylor Barnum. Hugh Jackman portrayed the character of Barnum in "The Greatest Showman." The Greatest Showman is the title of a musical drama film that had its global debut in theaters all over the world in 2017.

The movie is inspired by the imagination of P.T. Barnum. This movie relates the narrative of the beginning of the entertainment industry as well as the story of a visionary who came from nothing and created a spectacle that became a phenomenon all over the world. Michael Gracey is the one in charge of directing the movie. The word "conflict" refers to any situation in which a person or group of individuals must work together to solve an issue.

The conflicts found in this movie can not only be observed in the world as it actually exists, but it can also be seen in works of fiction. In this movie, there are three different types of conflicts: social conflict, physical conflict, and psychological conflict. According to the findings of this study, the phrase conflict refers to P.T. Barnum (the main character). A life that is complicated or challenging is referred to as a hard life. It is possible that the person was born into less-than-ideal circumstances, or that they had a difficult childhood or family life while they were growing up. According to the findings of this study, Barnum had been living with this sort of circumstance (a difficult existence) ever since he was a child.

Strategies for conflict management are necessary components of effective conflict resolution. People are able to build and maintain cooperative partnerships, in which they integrate their unique points of view in order to find solutions to challenges, when they learn how to manage conflict. There are a few strategies for managing conflicts that have the potential to be beneficial. These strategies offer benefits in a variety of contexts. In this movie, the conflict management strategies of Barnum to solve the problems found in the following categories: avoidance, pacification, competition, compromise, and creative integration.

B. Suggestion

Based on the movie The Greatest Showman, this research gives information about how to solve conflicts when things are not going well. This movie can give people hope and a great example of how to be grateful for everything. The researcher thinks that some of the people can see the great examples. This research can give great examples or good motivation for parents, teachers, students, or children. The researcher hopes that this research will help people and make them more creative. This research shows how a person can live in bad conditions. It can change someone's life, and it can show us all how to be grateful for everything. The readers can take on Barnum's attitude. This research can also be used as a guide by the next researcher. The researcher hopes that after reading this research, the next researcher will be able to do better and better work than in the past.