

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter, the writer gives conclusion and suggestion. After analyzing the novel and knows the character and struggle of main character, the writer will try to take conclusion and suggestion based on the analyzed above.

A. Conclusion

After the researcher observe with discussion about “Moral Values through Maher Zain’s Song finally the researcher gives a conclusion that can be explained below.

From the result of research, after paraphrasing the researcher found meanings of Maher Zain’s song (Always be There, Awaken, For the Rest of My Life, Freedom and Thank You Allah) there are several moral value that can be explained.

1. Always be There song talk about the existence of God and about how God love us as His creation. The existence of human nature is nothing without the grace of God. If not because of His goodness, human beings will never appear from behind a curtain of non-existence to this visible world. Moral value that existed in there is about thanking to Allah through praising to God.
2. Awaken song is talk about someone who is just understood that love properties or materialistic is bad act and God hate it. Loving material causes he forgets to his God, his duty to praise in God. In the Awaken, there are many moral messages that can be taken. After reading and analyzing the lyric, the researcher found three moral values. Those are feeling ashamed that human being must have and the expression of it through praising to Allah and faith in God and being conscious after doing bad behavior (loving material).

3. For the Rest of My Life song is talk about someone who does not have a wife and he is just understood that the existence of wife is very important when he fell desolately, all his property in house are untidy, cooking by himself, washing by himself and everything he must do by himself. In the For the Rest of My Life, there are many moral messages that can be taken. After reading and analyzing the lyric, the researcher found three moral values. Those loving wife by doing something with honesties, and thanking to God because God give a wife to him.
4. Freedom song itself is inspired by revolution that happened in Egypt, Tunisia, Libya and several Arabic countries. This song is presented to society that struggle for independence and freedom. In the Freedom, there are many moral messages that can be taken. After reading and analyzing the lyric, the writer found three moral values. Those are faith in God, praising to God, optimist, thanking to God, and togetherness.
5. Thank You Allah song is talk about someone who far away from God's way-a right way-and go astray. He does immoral that forbidden by religion, does crime that injures another people, and adds his sin from what he did. He is looked like forget with his duty as a human that must prays to God who created him, God who gives many unlimited enjoyment. Finally he become awake that something that he did is wrong after he get guidance from God.

B. Suggestion

According to research and discussion above, the researcher wants to give some suggestion:

1. To composers

Create one song not only gets character as amusement and only get gain, but gives meaningful song to give inspiration for beneficiary and its audience. A thing that needs to be remembered for composer, that song is not just as amusement but should have education element or contained other value in it, so it will be useful for its audience.

2. For society

Society as beneficiary of music and song necessarily begins smart and critical to choose song that have quality in its lyric. It is expected that they able to translate the meaning that consists in one song. So, society has critical and forward patterned thinking so gets ascendant to society mental state.

3. For next researcher

It is expected for getting to look for more song again to be analyzed which has moral values, so in the next will be found different meaning description that existed in its lyric, and get a new knowledge for society
