

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter the researcher gives conclusion and suggestion. After analyzing I am Sam by Jessie Nelson's movie and know the moral values in it, the researcher makes conclusion and suggestion based on the analysis above.

A. Conclusion

From the findings above, the researcher finds twelve moral values in. The researcher classifies from the most moral values appears to less moral values. First, moral value of careful is the most appears. The researcher finds ten examples of careful, This movie gives a main point to teach the important of careful and love affection in reality. People cannot live alone without helped by others. So, socialization is an important thing, in order people do not make individualism.

Second, the researcher finds eight examples of being wisdom, Being wisdom is the second moral values which the most appears. It shows that the movie also give a main point to teach the important of wisdom in reality. In fact, many people who have a big egoism will difficult being wisdom. Because, they just concern with themselves without think more about others. So, the movie gives messages through some characters in order make people know from the plot of the story.

Third, the researcher finds three examples in each moral values from do not underestimate others, being responsible, and never give up. s,

The movie gives a learning to never underestimate others, especially for people who have disability. In fact, they have pure and sincere to love others. The movie gives a precious lesson about responsible in some cases. Those are like being responsible in works and being responsible as a father. Never give up to teaches people in order struggle hard to reach or get an aim and never give up to faces many problems. Because, everything needs work hard in order get what people want.

Fourth, the researcher finds four examples moral values. Being patient, it teaches people to control their anger. Being patient is an important moral in order to do not hurt others and practice your selves to control all anger when you face a problem. The next moral value shows that sorry and apologize is an important things to reveal if people have a mistake. Everyone never do perfect in their life, so that moral values must bring up since early. Being respect, it gives a message to respect each other without concern the background of people. In fact, many advantages people gain if people being respected each other in reality.

Fifth, researcher finds one example from each moral values do not quarrel, being honest, and do not be greedy. The example of no quarrel can gives message to control your anger when you face something cruel in your ears. Quarrel is just gives a bad impact if you cannot control your emotion. So, the good things is speech in appropriate to make others understand a mistake they do. The example of being honest can gives an important point to everyone to reveal their love for their parents as long as they live. People will feel lost their lovely parents when they separated each others. So, you must show your feel to your parents to make them happy to hear that. The example of being greedy from the movie can gives a message to everyone to avoid being greedy. Being greedy is just gives a bad impact to your life. In the movie, people being greedy for their career. They spend much time to keep their reputation until they ignore their family. They do not have a harmonious family because they rarely spend much time together. So, the movie gives a learning to avoid being greedy through the plot of the story.

Finally, the theme of humanity is so clear from the moral values found by the researcher. It brings up people to immerse in the plot of story. The story teaches many things in life and it gives inspiration.
