

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter shows the conclusion and suggestion. It is important for the researcher to conclude the data that has been obtained so the result of the study can know easily and clearly

A. Conclusion

Based on the finding and discussion in the previous chapter, the researcher concludes this study as follow:

1. Based on the participant observation and informal interview that was done by the researcher and informants, the researcher concludes and realizes that some of learners of modern boarding school As-sakienah use code switching and mixing in their daily conversation, especially in informal situation. They usually use metaphorical code switching, situational code switching and mixing in the term of word, phrase, repetition, and clause in their conversation.
2. Based on the participant observation and informal interview, the researcher concludes the learners of As-sakienah use code switching and mixing caused by some factors, they are: respecting to old people, lack of vocabulary, presence of third person, forgetfulness, get shock, spontaneous, and preferring to use Arabic language than English language.

B. Suggestion

After doing the research through participant observation, and informal interview the researcher knew that some of learners use code switching and mixing. Thus, the researcher suggests the learners to write the words that they do not know, memorize, and apply them whenever and wherever they communicate. If there is not enough time because of the full time (study in class, praying together in the mosque, has daily picket, get memorizing from the teacher, and so on), please try to write two words in one day, and memorize time after praying Shubuh. Do not just give up and never say "English language is very difficult" in fact everything easy if we want to try and never give up. Do it, and do not mix or switch the word because it can destroy the ability in speaking English.

And the researcher realizes that this thesis has a weakness and lacking of complete. Thus, the researcher hopes the next researcher who interested on the same topic to do best the research as complete and better. Find more references related to sociolinguistics even from library or browsing from internet. It purposed to make the next researcher's thesis is more complete and perfect.
