CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In this chapter presents about the conclusion of the research and suggestion for English teacher, the reader and the next researcher.

A. Conclusion

In this research, the students have a problem in reading comprehension skill. To solve that problem, the researcher applied the CIRC technique. It is one of cooperative learning method. The CIRC technique is the technique that used to improve reading and composition or writing. In this technique the students work within cooperative teams which are coordinate with reading group instruction in order to meet objectives in such areas as reading comprehension, vocabulary, decoding, and spelling, predictions, and identifying of characters, settings, problem and problem solutions.

In cycle 1, there are some students did not do the test completely and there were 16 students gets fine score based on criteria minimum and 8 students got poor or under criteria minimum is 75 score in cycle 1. The average score is 72 and the achievement is not successful yet from the percentages is 66.7 %. It means that this cycle is not successful yet and the researcher continues to the next cycle or cycle 2.

In cycle 2 we can see that 24 students got good score based on criteria minimum and none students got poor or under criteria minimum score. It was increase from the result of cycle 1 was 16 students who got fine score and 8 students got poor score. The average score is 80 Increase from 72 in cycle 1 and the achievement class percentages was 100% increase from 66.7% in cycle 1. It has reach the criteria of success because there is more than 80% students get score 75 minimally. It means that the cycle improves the students' reading skill. Moreover, researcher found that students had done all activities well. In addition, CIRC technique that applied for the eleventh grade students of SMAN 1 Plosoklaten was qualified to be able to improve the students' achievement in reading narrative text.

B. Suggestion

After getting the result from the study in research, the writer would like to give some suggestion can be used to teach reading narrative text as follows:
