ABSTRACT

Khasanah, Rina Uswatun. 2009, Education and Moral Values In Surah Al Kahf Translated by Abdullah Yousuf Ali. Advisors: (1) Dr. Mukhammad Abdullah M.Ag. and (2) Bahruddin SS,M.Pd. Thesis, The English Department, Faculty of Education, STAIN Kediri,

Key words: education and moral values in surah al Kahf.

Teaching learning process needs some methods to make the student enjoy it in the classroom. It also needs a variation in performing the materials. So that, the students can accept the material easily. Besides the teacher shows the lessons, they will give teaching about attitudes and a behavior for the students. It is done neither in the classroom nor in the teaching learning process only. When they see something bad from the children, they will remember their student and give the righteous values.

Religious education has very important role in the teaching learning process. Besides teaching about the responsibilities as a human being, it also teaches about morality values meaning the relationship human and the relation toward God. If we tell about religious taught, we will relate it to Al Qur'an and Al Hadist because it is as a basic of Islamic religion, and the basic for us as a Moslem.

In Al Qur'an there are many education and moral values which are told in each Surah, mostly in the verses on the stories, advices, orders, and forms. As an example in the Surah Al Kahf. God gives us teaching from the stories in this Surah, those are: the struggle of youths in the past who are holding their belief toward Allah namely; Ashab Al Kahf. Then when we are finding a science He teaches us in the story of prophet Moses together Prophet Khidir. And the last, as a human and as a leader in the world, Allah teaches us about the responsibilities in the stories of King Dhu Al Qarnayn.

Based on the result of the analysis of the stories in Surah Al Kahf above the writer suggests the readers, especially the students in the faculty of education and for the teachers in the future that they improve their skills in the teaching learning process using variation of teaching methods based on the Islamic values. So that the quality of education in our society are able to make a generation who are able to perform their attitudes and behavior based on Islamic values. Because a great generation in one country is based on the morality of the youths.
