CHAPTER V
CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusion of the findings and also provides suggestions for the further researcher or the reader.

A. Conclusion

Based on the findings and discussion in the previous chapter, it can be concluded that:

1. The first objective of this study is to know the locutionary act that used in Ivanka Trump's speech. It categorized into three types, they are declarative, interrogative and imperative. Since in this research consist of many statements, so the most dominant is declarative with 95.3%. The reason is because declarative is to denote statements typically ended by period.

2. The second objective of this research is to know the types of corresponding illocutionary acts that used in Ivanka Trump's speech. There fives types of illocutionary acts. They are representative or assertive, directive, commisive, expressive and declaration. From those types, the researcher has been got the result that representative or assertive is dominant in this research with 47% in percentage.

B. Suggestion

The result of this study can lead to suggest for the following parties:

1. The students of English Language and Literature

    This research can give suggestion to the students in linguistics to learn pragmatics, because it important to know intended meaning while communicating with other to avoid misunderstanding.

2. The other researcher

    Speech act still be interesting topic. The researcher hopes to the future researcher can be analyzed the speech act with the other approaches. Not only analysis with the speech by famous figure but also to the other object.