

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents conclusion of this study and suggestion for the students, for the researcher and for the next researchers.

A. Conclusion

The result of this research showed that the use of outline technique has successfully improved students' writing ability in writing the descriptive text at SMAN 4 Keduri in academic year 2020/2021. The conclusion of the research is students' ability in writing descriptive text could be seen from the increasing of students' mean writing score from 60,7 in the preliminary study, and 80,14 in cycle 1 test.

The observation and interviews conducted by the writer during the action showed that the students were motivated and interest to participate and actively in writing activity. The teacher's response about the implementation of outline technique was positive and it would be an alternative technique in teaching writing. Therefore, outline technique could improve the students' ability in writing of descriptive text.

B. Suggestion

Based on the conclusion, it can be carried out the research, the writer concludes that clustering technique could improve students' skill in writing text. Regained to the subject of research, the writing suggest that the teacher should be used various techniques in the classroom because it can motivate their students and they will not boring easily especially implement the outline Technique as an alternative strategy in teaching writing.

For students they can easily apply and practice the outline technique by following the ways. It will help students to solve their problem in writing and to improve their writing. If the students' learning process is better, the quality of students will be higher.

Than, for the writer, the writer got many experiences in doing the research and helping the English teacher to solve the students problem in writing by proposing a technique, outline technique.

And , to the next researchers, the writer hope this research will be a source for those who want to raise th similar case. From this reserch, they can obtain ome basic information about outline technique is applied in the online class meeting. Therefore, it will be a guidance for them to describe and explain some procedures of the research part by part.