

CHAPTER V CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

In chapter V, the writer presents some conclusions based on finding and discussion in previous chapter. Additionally, some suggestions are presented in this chapter.

A. Conclusion

A new learning media named English Speaking E-booklet has been produced by the writer of this research. It was conducted by the researcher for second semester students of English Department in IAIN Kediri. Based on the finding and discussion, the researcher makes some conclusions as follow:

1. The English Speaking E-booklet was conducted as supplementary media for second semester students in academic speaking class. It is expected to help students learn individually outside the class. In conducting the product, there were several steps used by the researcher. The researcher used ADDIE model which consists of 5 steps, Analysis, Design, Development, Implementation, and Evaluation. In the first step, the researcher analyzed the student's need using observation sheet, questionnaire, and interview. Designing the product was the second step of this research. While the third step was product development. The researcher developed the product based on the design. In the next step, the researcher implemented the product to the assessor to be validated and to the students to ensure the product is easy to be understood. There were several revision before it was implemented to the students. After the product was implemented to the students, the researcher made an evaluation. From the evaluation, the researcher is convinced that the product is ready to be used by the students.

2. The name of the product is English Speaking E-booklet which focuses on academic speaking learning. The product is expected to be used by second semester students as supplementary media in learning academic speaking. This e-booklet consists of two units. The first unit is about Focus Group Discussion (FGD) activity. While another unit is about Individual Presentation activity. Each unit is contained with instructions, academic phrases, examples, vocabulary list, and exercises.

B. Suggestion

After concluding the results of this research, the researcher would like to give some suggestions for the next researcher. Firstly, The product is already made in online platform. However, the writer suggests the next researcher to make an easy application so that the students can learn the material easily. Secondly, The writer also suggests the next researcher to implement this product to the students in order to know how effective or efficient the product is.
