Appendix 5 Interviews Transcript

Interview 01 (NK):

1. Interviewer: Does Korean wave encourage your motivation to study English, especially vocabulary?

NK: Yes, I do. Because all of K-pop Content actually used Korean language and the subtitle use English.

2. Interviewer: Does following the Korean wave and doing fangirl/fanboy activities help you memorize English Vocabulary?

NK: Yes, it is very helpful, especially when we are fangirls, we are passionate about memorizing a lot of vocabulary to be able to understand when they speak English, to be able to memorize vocabulary when we see a drama that we do not know what it means so we know what it means.

3. Interviewer: Do you enjoy learning English vocabulary from some fangirl/fanboy activities including watching Korean drama or videos using English subtitle?

NK: Yes, I do. For me personally following the k-wave is an alternative medium of learning English language. Because I can enjoy and unconsciously I also learn from these things.

4. Interviewer: What do you think about the Korean wave that could affect in English vocabulary?

NK: I think it's very influential, because personally, I follow Korean dramas or other things quite often so it really helps in English vocabulary. What's more, I often use English subtitles. It's like killing two birds with one stone. I was just looking for entertainment because I was bored, so I could get a bonus for learning English.

Interview 02 (DA):

1. Interviewer: Does Korean wave encourage your motivation to study English, especially vocabulary?

DA: English is an international language so to be able to interact with Korean idols, I use English or Korean, but for people who cannot speak Korean tend to use English so that it can encourage motivation to learn English. I want to learn English better so that I can communicate and increase networking with other fans from abroad.

2. Interviewer: Does following the Korean wave and doing fangirl/fanboy activities help you memorize English Vocabulary?

DA: Doing fangirl activities made me memorize English because of the many other fans from abroad. Interaction on social media with fanboys/fangirls is my way in memorizing English.

3. Interviewer: Do you enjoy learning English vocabulary from some fangirl/fanboy activities including watching Korean drama or videos using English subtitle?

DA: Yes I do, very enjoy for me. And if you learn Korean (like me do it) you automatically learn English because, when studying, Korean is translated into English, and it really helps us to get two languages at once. English and Korean.

4. Interviewer: What do you think about the Korean wave that could affect in English vocabulary?

DA: Sometimes it's easier to understand English vocabulary when watch a drama and fangirl activity, because we'll be curious about English vocabulary that we never know before. Every time there is a vocabulary that I don't know, I will write it down in a book.

Interview 03 (FT):

1. Interviewer: Does Korean wave encourage your motivation to study English, especially vocabulary?

FT: Yes, it does, because the Korean wave is not only affect the culture, but also the language. Sometimes we know that there are so many Korean idols who come from another country, so they often speak in English. And I think I get motivation from it.

2. Interviewer: Does following the Korean wave and doing fangirl/fanboy activities help you memorize English Vocabulary?

FT: Sometimes a fangirl / fanboy group has members from different countries, so sometimes I use English when has a conversation with them. Thus, it can help me memorize English vocabulary.

3. Interviewer: Do you enjoy learning English vocabulary from some fangirl/fanboy activities including watching Korean drama or videos using English subtitle?

FT: Yes I do, because when I watch Korean drama or Music Videos, I usually use English subtitles and actually I enjoy it.

4. Interviewer: What do you think about the Korean wave that could affect in English vocabulary?

FT: Because Korean is worldwide entertainment, it influenced me a lot in order to understand English and Korean in one time. Korean wave is not only affected the culture, but also the language. Because not all of the Korean idols speak in Korean, but some members come from another country such as China, Japan, Thailand, and Europe. So we can speak to them using English. So I think it can also affect our English vocabulary when we want to talk with them.

Interview 04 (NU):

1. Interviewer: Does Korean wave encourage your motivation to study English, especially vocabulary?

NU: Yes, Korean wave motivate me to learn English. I learned a lot of new vocabulary after watching Korean variety shows.

2. Interviewer: Does following the Korean wave and doing fangirl/fanboy activities help you memorize English Vocabulary?

NU: Some Korean idols who are doing live/interacting with fans usually use English so that it can help me memorize English vocabulary

3. Interviewer: Do you enjoy learning English vocabulary from some fangirl/fanboy activities including watching Korean drama or videos using English subtitle?

NU: I enjoy it, because to increase my knowledge about vocabulary, usually in every new variety show idol, those who appear early must use high language translation, so usually I want to watch it immediately, and if I wait for the Indonesian translation, it takes a long time. From there, when you don't know the meaning of the vocab, immediately find a dictionary to translate.

4. Interviewer: What do you think about the Korean wave that could affect in English vocabulary?

NU: It's a good thing, of course, for people like me (introvert) who didn't like to meet with a lot of people, but by doing this, not only enjoying the content that I like, but also learning/improving my English and maybe a bit of Korean too.

Interview 05 (IF)

1. Interviewer: Does Korean wave encourage your motivation to study English, especially vocabulary?

IF: There is still a lot of content about the K - wave that only provides English subtitles so I am encouraged to understand more of the phrases written in the subtitle.

2. Interviewer: Does following the Korean wave and doing fangirl/fanboy activities help you memorize English Vocabulary?

IF: It helps me a lot on mastering English when I read some articles related to k-pop, watching k-pop videos by using a subtitle and other activities.

3. Interviewer: Do you enjoy learning English vocabulary from some fangirl/fanboy activities including watching Korean drama or videos using English subtitle?

IF: Yes, because every time we add a comment or watch a Korean drama using English, we become accustomed to the vocabulary.

4. Interviewer: What do you think about the Korean wave that could affect in English vocabulary?

IF: I think it's a good choice because sometimes, we can enjoy learning English with content that we like. And K-pop is also one of the ways. If we like K-pop, we can learn some English vocabulary from that.
